

Brief Profile

Mr Nicholas Sansom graduated in law from the London School of Economics and qualified as a barrister-at-law.

Prior to becoming the Executive Director of SCMA in May 2009, Nick was Head of Marine for Asia at Marsh from 2005, which is a subsidiary of public listed Marsh McLennan Companies, providing insurance broking and risk advice services.

Before joining Marsh, Nick spent most of his career with the Thomas Miller Group, a privately owned group of companies providing insurance and risk management services, primarily in respect of marine liability and professional indemnity risks. His most recent position for Thomas Miller was as the principal officer of the Singapore branches of the UK P&I Club and TT Club between 1998 to 2005.

Apart from speaking and lecturing at many conferences and seminars, Nick has been an active member of various trade associations in the transport sector, was on the drafting groups for various BIMCO and FIATA transport documents and is the current president of the Maritime Law Association of Singapore.
