Overview:

In alignment with Government policy to encourage the use of mediation to settle disputes as well as to establish Singapore as an International Mediation Centre, the Institute for Professional Maritime Development and Training (IPMDT), the training arm of Marine Offshore Oil and Gas Association (MOOGAS), presents this unique course in collaboration with the Singapore Mediation Centre (SMC) and Singapore Maritime Academy (SMA) to professionals from all spheres of our economy, especially the maritime industry where disputes are expected to increase following the recovery of the global economy, and in particular the buoyant boom in the oil and gas sector evident by the inexorable trend of using LNG for industrial and domestic purposes. Trained instructors from SMC, and Capt Chatur, senior lecturer of SMA, will deftly demonstrate the operational mechanism and cost effectiveness of mediation with specially structured case studies relating to the maritime trade.

This unprecedented course will also enable participants to gain insightful knowledge that mediation, though at times known as an ADR, that is, Alternative Dispute Resolution tool, should in fact be considered as a PDR, that is Primary Dispute Resolution tool which, when combined with other dispute resolution methods, will become an “ultra effective” process to resolve commercial conflicts. It is in this direction that this course is specially tailored.

For participants who are already accredited arbitrators, they will, after successfully completing this full course, become “Med-Arbiters” wearing two hats, one for mediation and the other for arbitration. Furthermore, this course also incorporates one of the latest methods used in settling commercial disputes called Expert Determination, which, though nascent, is steadily gaining popularity, pairing with mediation. On this aspect, Mr Naresh, an elite lawyer au fait in Expert Determination, will share his experience and expertise with participants.

At the end of the course, participants will be presented Certificate of Attendance jointly issued by SMC and MOOGAS. Participants will be eligible to join the Panels of Arbitrators and Mediators of MOOGAS.

1 OCT 2014 WORKSHOP PROGRAMME

DAY THREE

9:00 - 10:30	Naresh Mahtani will speak on 'Using Expert Determination to resolve Maritime and Oil &amp; Gas disputes quickly and economically.' In addition to the traditional and usual alternative forms of dispute resolution (such as arbitration, litigation, mediation, adjudication and negotiation), there has been a timely emergence of new methods in recent years in Singapore and around the world. 'Expert Determination' is an avenue and a tool which is often appropriate for disputes involving technical, industry and associated financial issues, which are often encountered in the maritime, oil &amp; gas, construction and engineering industries. Contracts nowadays often incorporate this in their dispute resolution clauses.
10:30 - 10:45	Tea Break
10:45 - 11:30	Capt Chatur Wahyu will speak on the benefits of using mediation vis-à-vis arbitration to resolve maritime disputes. He will also be discussing on the two principal forms of mediation in Singapore: private mediation as practiced by the Singapore Mediation Centre (SMC) and court-based mediation found in the Subordinate Courts.
11:30 - 12.00	Q & A Moderated by Capt Chatur P Wahyu
